About Christa

Christa Patchen Wagner is a motivational speaker, expert organizer, writer and creator of products that make life a little easier. She founded Savvy Solutions in 2004 and has worked with hundreds of business and residential clients to help them make better use of their time and space.

Christa's more than five years of organizing experience has allowed her to participate in several TV and media features, including an Office Organizing Makeover with Get Connected Media, a Home Office Organizing segment with Shaw Cable's The Express, a Holiday Organizing segment with NBC-TV and a product testimonial for HP Office Jet 8500 Printer. Her radio experience includes a segment called De-clutter Your Life with NPR. Her client experiences and charming personality are an asset to any program and easily come across to the audience.

Christa is a dynamic and accomplished speaker. She is passionate about organizing and sharing that passion with her audience, enabling them to have the confidence to get organized. Her engaging style inspires people to take action on projects they want to "sweep under the rug." Her workshop and keynote topics include: Tackle The No-Time Trap, Smarter, Not Harder, Uncover the Desktop and Overcome Email Madness.

Savvy Solutions was named Seattle's Best Organizing Company in 2008 by Seattle Metropolitan Magazine and Seattle Magazine.

Christa is a Certified Professional Organizer®, a member of the National Association of Professional Organizers (NAPO), and a member of the Professional Organizers of Canada where she serves as Vice President for the local BC chapter. She is a leader within her industry. Christa holds a degree in Speech Communications from Indiana University and spent 10 years in the advertising industry.

When Christa isn't organizing or speaking about organizing, she is enjoying time with her husband John. Her passions include wine, cooking fabulous food, swimming, kayaking, camping, fashion, hanging with family and friends, watching movies and traveling. She is a pet lover and has an enormous cat named Jordan.

"Christa's personality is contagious. She is funny and inspiring. After her presentation, you want to get organized. She is sympathetic yet firm, providing the accountability you need to get organized."

My Clients Say It Best . . .

Christa Patchen Wagner, a Professional Organizer and Speaker, has worked with hundreds of satisfied clients.

- “The crew said you were just fantastic on set – exactly what we were hoping for. A big thanks for putting in the time beforehand and coming through for us.” - Clayton Goodfellow, Blink Media
- “Thanks for your help. My mind is at ease and I love being organized. Thanks for helping me put in this structure. Now everything else I do seems easier too when I don't have to worry about my organizational system.” - Kurt Pichler, client
- “I think I can speak on behalf of the entire GC Crew that you were an excellent co-host for our segment and the energy you brought to the set throughout the long day will translate well onto the screen.” - Allan Hattori, producer of Get Connected with Blink Media
- “Christa, you work wonders. I was so concerned about our audit and after organizing our tax papers and receipts, I could find the specific papers needed in seconds. Thank you very much!” - Melissa Aragon, Taraxca Sterling Silver
- “Thanks for a wonderful seminar and evening. You have been so helpful, not only are your classes very useful, practical and fun, you are a fantastic presenter. Both classes could not have come at a better time.” - Lori M., client
- “Thank you (again) for helping out with another one of our GetConnected segments. You're a pro!!!” - Allan Hattori, producer of Get Connected with Blink Media
- “Thanks so much for the time management lunch & learn. I struggle each day with too many tasks and not enough time. It really helped me to prioritize and consider what matters most.” - Arlene N., client
- “Getting organized has saved me hundreds of dollars in lost productivity. I have a staff of ten people and we were all losing time each day without systems. Your seminar and mini individual sessions have made a huge difference to our effectiveness.” - Chris Stevenson, client
- “I had never heard of a professional organizer before meeting you. I thought I could teach myself. So glad we met – you've made a profound difference to my life.” - Sarah Davidson, client
- “I am truly impressed with how much we accomplished. Savvy Solutions is professional, hard working and they get the job done. My office has been transformed.” - Sally R., client
